Sale of "Dope" Cut Down.

Drug addicts can no longer obtain narcotics on physicians' prescriptions merely to relieve the suffering caused by the lack of the drug, under stringent regulations issued Sunday by the bureau of internal revenue governing the quantity which may be ordered by physicians. It was possible, under the old regulations, for a physician to prescribe "more than is apparently needed to meet the needs of a patient in the ordinary case," if he stated on the prescription the purpose for which the unusual quantity was to be used. This privilege is now revoked.
